Harvard Environmental Economics Program
DEVELOPING INNOVATIVE ANSWERS TO TODAY'S COMPLEX ENVIRONMENTAL CHALLENGES

STUDENT PRIZES FOR 2023–2024

The Harvard Environmental Economics Program will award three prizes in May 2024 for the best research papers addressing topics in environmental, energy, and natural-resources economics.

RULES FOR COMPETITION:

- Submitted papers and theses must have been completed during the 2023-2024 academic year.
- Co-authored papers are acceptable, as long as all authors are students, whether at Harvard or elsewhere. At least one author must be a student enrolled in a degree program at Harvard.
- Papers co-authored with non-students (faculty members, consultants, outside researchers, etc.) are not allowed.
- Competition for the masters and doctoral student prizes are open to students enrolled in a degree program in any of Harvard's schools.
- Individual students may appear as an author for only one submitted paper.
- It is assumed that submitted papers will have been prepared for other purposes (classes, publication, job market, etc.). It is not required nor expected that students prepare papers specifically for the prize competition.

- ENEL ENDOWMENT PRIZE FOR BEST UNDERGRADUATE PAPER OR SENIOR THESIS: $1,000
- MOSSAVAR-RAHMANI CENTER PRIZE FOR BEST MASTERS STUDENT PAPER: $1,500
- ANA AGUADO PRIZE FOR THE BEST PAPER BY A DOCTORAL STUDENT: $2,000

IMPORTANT DATES AND GUIDELINES FOR PAPER SUBMISSIONS:

- The deadline for receipt of submissions is Monday May 6th, at 12:00 PM (U.S./Canada ET). In the interest of fairness, there will be no exceptions with regard to the deadline.
- Please submit paper and C.V./resume in electronic form to Meredith Landry, Meredith_Landry@hks.harvard.edu.
- Winners will be announced by Thursday May 16, 2024.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

- Submitted papers will be reviewed—and the winners chosen—by a specially appointed faculty committee.
- If a submitted paper is co-authored by two or more students in the same prize category, then each of these students will be acknowledged as a prize winner.

For more information please visit heep.hks.harvard.edu